

Luke Buonanno 11/17/23

1. CC Surgical Education Center, 3900 Sierra Cir, Center Valley, PA 18034, Roger King
2. While we were in the Surgical Education Center we saw a lot of interesting things. To start out Mr. King talked to us through each of the different amazing equipment he had and showed us what their uses were for and why he needed them to help educate students. We got to see a large amount of different machines ranging from simple precision instruments which we later got to use to a half-million-dollar “Davinci Machine” which simulated what it would be like to operate on people using a machine.
3. One thing that connected to my current knowledge was the technology used for some of the precision instruments which I have heard of before but never had the option to actually use a set to move small objects around with.
4. One thing from the tour that related to my future endeavors is the design and implementation of advanced technology and how it is helpful for the training and education of medical personnel,